Leadership in the Pennant Races Nearly Settled for This Season.

NEXT SEASON'S CIRCUITS IN DISCUSSION

Some Changes that Are Probable and Which Mean Better Ball in the Western League, with Eight Good Clubs in the Struggle.

It seems to be about all over so far as first place is concerned. Brooklyn, Chicago and Denver having apparently safe leads in their respective leagues. For second place there is a lively scramble in each of the three. Pittsburg just now seems to have a cinch at this position, but the Pirates have another trip to make east, and they haven't proved a first chop road team. According to this Philadelphia and Chicago both have a look in for the place. It is, though, quite within the range of possibilities that Fred Clarke can land his Pirates in first place for a moment at least, as Brooklyn is not a firehead, but a little slump will set them back. However, the Superbas are playing the ball has made Hanlen famous, and there is little more reason to espect them to drop than there is to look for the sheep to kill the butcher. By the way, Joe Mc-Ginnity algoritzed his return to the team from his Omaha visit by pitching two games during the week, holding St. Louis down to one run and shutting out Pittaburg. The other teams in the league have about taken their places, although Boston is hanging on to Chicago like a pup to a called names, but it was in a very quiet and has not failed because he didn't try Fort, and apparently won't be happy until way by a very quiet gentleman, who came Thompson is uncertain all the way around in fourth place. That little village has been 2 White..... for years the home of the most ruthless | 1 Noble ..... set of market hunters in the state. At one time the writer had occasion to visit that place on business during the month of August. He was shown through a cold torage house, called in the parlance of hat country a "freezer." There were stored at that time in the place 300 dozen young chickens waiting for the open seaon to arrive that they could be safely birds commenced in the middle of July Standard, perfect condiand at that time the territory in the vicinity was practically denuded of live In addition to those stored small quantities had been shipped from time to time under the temptation of high prices. It is not the really innocent farmer who wants a few birds for his own table that the sportsmen are making a serious effort to punish, but these game hogs who clean up everything as they go along purely for what money there is in it.
